Bio

I come from the social sciences. From 2009 onwards, I researched graffiti. I worked with pictures and text using LaTeX: a professional WYSIWYM compiling editor. There I got more into technology. Before that, I used Linux. Later I built a static website: HTML CSS. I configured the DNS domain. Now I like writing with vim.

Tech

MAIN STACK: C♯ JavaScript

INTERESTS: UX/UI MERN Big Data

Languages

Born and raised in the US to age 7.
I speak:

- native English. I have a VISA.
- native Spanish.
- fluent Portuguese. I lived in Brazil.

Professional Profile

I'm drawn to UX Research + Big Data + Web Development.

I am now studying Systems Analyst as a 3rd-year student.

In Sociology, I've researched for several years: with ethnography as my primary method, along with using observation and interviews. I handmade a book and a website. Later, it all scaled. The dynamics and results I found in the tech world brought me up here. I want to keep going further this rabbit hole.
